A MESSAGE FROM THE ACTING PRESIDENT

By: Dr. John U. Balis, Acting President, IFGLC/AFGLC HQ

Dear Members and Friends of AFGLC,

I wish to express, both personally and on behalf of the AFGLC, our sincere appreciation and gratitude to Dr. Chris Tsokos, Distinguished University Professor at USF and President of AFGLC from May, 1992 to January, 2007, for his enormous contributions to the development and growth of AFGLC. I am hopeful that, in spite of his undisclosed difficulties and increasing academic responsibilities, Dr. Tsokos will find time to support future meritorious AFGLC projects.

I have had the privilege of functioning as Acting President of our Foundation for the past nine months, in accordance with the Bylaws of AFGLC, given the inability of Dr. Tsokos to participate actively in any of the AFGLC meetings or handle any AFGLC business, discussed and approved by the HQ Executive Committee. On January 30, 2007, our Board of Trustees concluded that the inexplicable absence of the President from his legitimate role as the leader of the Foundation since the summer of 2006 is not consistent with the AFGLC Bylaws and, subsequently, formally appointed me to serve as Acting President. Furthermore, the Trustees revised the AFGLC bylaws, requiring that, henceforward, all AFGLC HQ Executive Officers be elected every 3 years.

While the duration of my appointment as Acting President will be determined by the Board of Trustees, I do expect that this appointment will be completed by no later than July 2009. During this period, I will work full time to promote the noble mission of our Foundation, with focus on the goals outlined in my communication to the Board of Trustees on February 3, 2007:

“The aim will be to address pressing current problems; establish good working relationships with the ICHS at USF; closely interact with the IFGLC Athens Center and the Tri-state Center to establish integrated strategies for the promotion of the AFGLC mission and agenda; actively pursue multiple fund raising strategies; foster communication and transparency within the AFGLC Centers and the corresponding ICHSs; bring up to date the AFGLC website; establish an upgraded AFGLC Newsletter; expand the membership drive in the Tampa Bay area in collaboration with the AFGLC Tampa Bay Center; and establish a fiscally sound Gala. All above projects require enthusiastic participation of the entire AFGLC family in close collaboration with the ICHS faculty and administration.”

Meaningful progress in some of the above goals has already been achieved as a result of collective leadership, the guiding force of my administration since July, 2006. The impressive success of our annual Educational Forum last month is an irrefutable testimony that, together, we continue to build a Foundation to last.

With warmest regards,

John U. Balis

FORUM 2007: A SWEET SUCCESS!

By: Dr. Byron P. Palls

March 2-3, 2007 saw another successful celebration of the Hellenic Spirit: the 12th annual Educational Forum of AFGLC, held on the campus of the University of South Florida. This year's central theme was "Hellenic Models of Excellence: Their Modern Relevance." Credit for this successful event goes directly to its organizers, Dr. John U. Balis, USF Professor of Pathology and Cell Biology Emeritus, and Dr. James Strange, Distinguished USF professor and Director of the Interdisciplinary Center for Hellenic Studies (ICHS) at USF.

The cost of the Forum was defrayed by philanthropists and AFGLC benefactors George and Margo Behrakis of Boston, MA. The Forum enjoyed the full support of the administration of USF; Dr. Judy L. Genshaft, President of USF, Dr. Renu Khator, Provost, and Dr. John Skvoretz, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, gave an enthusiastic welcome to the participants and extolled the many benefits that the university community derives from having an ICHS on the USF Campus.

Working in tandem with Drs. Balis and Strange were additional members of the Forum Committee (Rev. Dr. S. Harakas, Mr. N. Maroulis, and Drs. B. Balis, D. Halkias, B. Palls, E. Stefanakos, G. Arsenis, M. Gibbons, and W. Yotis), who helped organize the many facets of the Forum, from deciding on the theme, to securing speakers, to planning ceremonies to honor outstanding Hellenes, to arranging for food and entertainment, to solving dozens of logistical problems and ensure the success of the Forum. REPORT FROM THE AFGLC TAMPA CENTER

By: Kalliope D. Halkias, MPH, President

AFGLC Tampa Center sponsored its Third Annual Dinner Cruise aboard the StarLite Majesty Yacht on February 24, 2007, in Clearwater, Florida. This successful event was attended by 30 members and friends of AFGLC, who enjoyed a wonderful evening of fine food, fun and fellowship. It was the consensus that we continue this emerging fundraising tradition and host the cruise again later on this year (more information on this later).

The Center had an active supportive role in this year's very successful Twelfth Educational Forum: Ms. Tina Manolakas, Esq. and AFGLC attorney, presented information on the AFGLC Bylaws, and Ms. Kalliope Halkias discussed options for a Membership Drive and reported on the activities of the local Young Adults group. Of paramount importance and a high priority of the Center is how to sustain and increase its membership in the Tampa Bay Area. We hope that all current members will continue to renew their membership annually, as the dues help support our everyday activities. We invite everyone to work with us to promote our Mission (see p. 7)

REPORT FROM THE TRI-STATE CENTER

By: Dr. Peter N. Yiannos, President

Refreshing your memory, the Tri-State organization consists of AFGLC members highly committed to its purpose, who represent people from the business, academic and government sectors.

At this time, in addition to the national AFGLC supportive organization, the Tri-State Center organization consists of:

HONORARY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Honorable Joseph Biden, U.S. Senator
 The Honorable Tom Carper, U.S. Senator
 Dr. Nicholas Pappas, Retired DuPont Executive
 Mr. Constantine Caras, Esq.
 Dr. George Hadjipanayis, The Richard B. Murray
 Professor of Physics, U. of DE
 Dr. Vera King Farris, President Emeritus,
 The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey
 Mr. Andreas P Economou, Chairman and CEO,
 Unifruitti of America

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Dr. Peter Yiannos, President
 Dr. George Vassilatos, Vice President
 Mr. Costantine Georgiou, Treasurer
 Mr. Antonis Mistras, Senior Financial Advisor
 Mrs. Stella Yiannos, Secretary
 Dr. Theodore Michell, Senior Advisor
 Mr. Paul Kotrotsios, Public Relations Advisor
 Dr. George Tsakumis, Academic Advisor
 Mr. George Christy, AFGLC
 Representative to Stockton College

MISSION

The mission, goals and objectives of the Tri-State AFGLC are similar to those of the parent organization, with the aim of establishing Interdisciplinary Centers for Hellenic Studies (ICHS) in its area. In this regard, we are aiming to use the “cookie cutter” approach, thus, minimizing re-inventing the wheel, so-to-speak, but always mindful of the need for adaptation for any local variations and idiosyncrasies.

PROGRESS AND RELEVANT COMMENTS

Since the opening of the Stockton ICHS center took place on June 19, 2003, the following key accomplishments have been made:

The five professorship contracts for specific fields within that Center, funded through AFGLC donors, are:

1. The still un-named (but funded) AFGLC for Hellenic Culture Professorship, held by Professor Dr. Fred Mench, the Director of the Center. Dr. Mench is in the process of retiring and Dr. Papademetriou is the new Director Designee; the College is also in the process of hiring a suitable replacement for this specific discipline.
2. The Peter and Stella Yiannos Professorship in Greek Language and Literature, held by Designee Professor Dr. David Roessel.

3. The Constantine and Georgiean Georgiou Hellenic History Professorship (Modern Hellenism), held by Professor and Designee Director of the ICHS Center, Dr. Tom Papademetriou.
4. The Clement and Helen Pappas Byzantine Civilization and Religious Studies Professorship, held by Distinguished Professor Rev. Dr. Demetrios Constantelos. The College is in the process of hiring a suitable replacement for the "irreplaceable" Fr. Constantelos who has announced his retirement.
5. The Petros and Despoina Tsantes Family Professorship in Greek Philosophy, in memory of Katerina H. Batuyios, held by Designee Professor Dr. Lucio Privitello.

We are indeed very proud and appreciative to all those families who made the above five professorships possible at Stockton in a relatively short time. They have left a real legacy for themselves and their families.

In the October annual meeting of the Hellenic Friends for Stockton (HFS), a local organization in support of the ICHS Center at Stockton, the President of the College, Dr. Herman Saatkamp, reviewed the above professorships of the Center and cited its real contributions to the College. The President also took the opportunity to announce that Dean Pappas, co-sponsor of the Clement and Helen Pappas Byzantine Civilization and Religious Studies Professorship, was selected and appointed to serve as trustee of the College by the Governor of the State.

In a recent Christmas event by the Hellenic University Club of Wilmington, three of the professorship benefactors expressed some powerful messages worth repeating here:

- Dean Pappas:The interdisciplinary Center for Hellenic Studies (ICHS) at the Stockton College of New Jersey where I was recently appointed as a trustee, is doing very well and proves the wisdom of its establishment.
- Gus Georgiou:Twenty or twenty five years from now, no one will care or remember what kind of home I was living in or what kind of car I was driving, but I hope that some students that take Greek History at Stockton College will enjoy it and be inspired by it as much as my wife and I did sponsoring the AFGLC professorship.

Peter Yiannos: ... Σας υπενθυμίζω ότι η ελληνική παιδεία είναι το ορφανό της εποχής μας και χρειάζεται όλους μας. Είναι όμως το ισχυρό μας χαρτί για ένα καλό μέλλον. I remind you that Hellenic Paedeia is the orphan of our time and needs all of us. However, it is our strong card for a promising future. Let us support it and use it.

PLANS BEYOND STOCKTON IN THE TRI-STATE AREA:

We have a challenge to generate the needed money for the next ICHS Center in the general Tri-State area. An outstanding and proven philanthropist has promised to contribute one and possibly two professorships, if we secure the rest!! May we hear from some others out there?

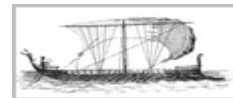

The AFGLC opportunity has been developed to the point that it does not need "reinvention of the wheel". The only thing that is needed is ENERGY. Money is the motive force that, when it supports the noble goal of Hellenic education at the college level by committed people, it can do miracles.

Sponsoring an AFGLC professorship at a college or university can be each family's legacy. Otherwise, a few years after our death, there will be nothing for our individual or group remembrance, and no one will ever know that we passed through here, either as individuals or as Hellenic Americans. Hellenic Paedeia (Education and Culture) with its eternal values, is a prerequisite for both individual and institutional life, if we are to avoid the evils of fanaticism and other extremism in our society.

On March 5, 2007, the total community of Delaware, the AFGLC organization and all those who knew Georgian Georgiou experienced the great loss of her passing to eternity. Georgian, wife of our Tri-State AFGLC Treasurer Constantine Georgiou and sponsors of the Greek History Professorship at our Hellenic Center at Stockton College, was a dynamo of a person and an example of a cultured personality who absorbed and practiced the best of her Hellenic and American cultures.

AFGLC/IFGLC WEBSITE UPDATE!

Dr. Ulysses J. Balis, Director

By fall of this year, there will be a number of modest but very useful enhancements to our current AFGLC web site.

1. ICHS integration: Links and current activities for our ICHS's will be prominently featured on the homepage, thereby simplifying access to our various chapters.

2. Archival material: With the conversion to our new website format several years ago, much useful archival and historical content was not fully mapped to the new page structure. This is being rectified with the expectation that all AFGLC/IFGLC archival documents will be available via a newly expanded archives section.

3. Membership section with on-line membership renewal and donation capability: Recognizing the need to provide for on-line membership activity, the website is being retooled to offer these features.

The main thrust of the Forum, the presentations and panel discussions which defined it, was carried out by carefully chosen academics with superb knowledge in their respective fields.

The speaker for the Annual Lecture on Hellenism was Dr. Richard Janko, the distinguished G. F. Else Collegiate Professor and Chair, Department of Classical Studies at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, whose fields of expertise are: Homer, Linear B, Aegean Bronze Age archeology, ancient literary theory and pre-Socratic philosophy. Prof. Janko delivered an illuminating lecture on "Homer: Epic Poetry and the Homeric Question", which provided a resounding affirmative as to whether Homer existed and the Trojan War took place.

The session "Models from Ancient Greece," was moderated by Dr. Tom Papademetriou, Director of the ICHS at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey. The first speaker, Dr. Christos Evangeliou, Professor of Greek philosophy at Towson University, gave an original and innovative lecture on "Odysseus as Hellenic Cultural Hero: Overcoming Agamemnon and Achilles by Athena". Also, contributing was Dr. Dennis Laffer, a practicing physician and graduate student in Classics at USF, who traced the oath of physicians in his paper "Hippocrates: The creation of Practice Standards and Bioethics in Medicine."

The session "Models from Byzantium and Modern Greece," was moderated by the Rev. Dr. Harakas, former Dean and Archbishop Iakovos Professor of Orthodox Theology Emeritus at Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, Brookline, MA. Fr. Harakas, addressed in an introductory manner the topic of "Education in Byzantium;" Dr. Anthony Kaldellis, Associate Professor of Classics at Ohio State University, Columbus, followed Dr. Harakas and demonstrated his impressive expertise in Byzantine studies in a lecture that addressed the intriguing topic "Blessed Ladies: Women Philosophers in Byzantium from Hypatia to Anna Komnene" Dr. Santo Nicosia, Professor and Chair of the Department of Pathology and Cell Biology at USF, and an expert in Cytopathology, closed the session with his highly interesting presentation on "George Papanicolaou: Discovery and Education in Cancer Screening."

A panel discussion was the format of the third session, "The role of Hellenic Models in Interdisciplinary Curricula," moderated by Dr. Strange. It included Dr. Abdul Rao, Professor of Surgery and Molecular Medicine at USF, Dr. Diane Touliatos, Professor of Musicology and Director of the Center for Humanities at the University of Missouri, St. Louis, an expert in Ancient Greek and Byzantine Music and Hymnography, and Dr. Constantine Papadakis, President of Drexel University, Philadelphia, the dynamic force behind Drexel's success and an innovator in education and the corporate world. All speakers emphasized the value of interdisciplinary curricula.

The fourth session, "Historical Vignettes from Arts and Sciences," was moderated by Dr. John Noonan, Associate Professor of World Languages at USF. Contributors included Prof. Janko, who presented a most interesting paper entitled "The Herculaneum Papyri and the Philodemus Translation Project," relating the advances of science in reconstructing the texts of charred papyri; Prof. Ulysses Balis, Associate Professor of Pathology and Division Director of Clinical Informatics at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, who presented "The Antikythera Mechanism," a fascinating computer-like device, which appears to have been invented by the Classical Greeks in the 1st century B.C. as an aid in navigation; and Prof. Touliatos, who spoke on "Greek Women in Music and Dance," elaborating on the role of Greek women in the arts through the ages.

The fifth session, "Engaging the Media and the Internet for the Promotion of AFGLC Mission," was a panel discussion on ways to improve the Foundation's ability to reach the public. It was moderated by Prof. Elias Stefanakos, Director of the Clean Energy Research Center, College of Engineering, USF. Panelists included the Rev. Dr. Harakas, Prof. U. Balis, and Mr. Constantinos Stefanakos, screen writer and AFGLC consultant.

The final session of the Forum, "The AFGLC Family Speaks: Thoughts, Constructive Criticism and Recommendations," moderated by Dr. Demetrios Halkias, Professor of Microbiology and Immunology Emeritus, USF, was another panel discussion. The panel was made up of Ms. Kalliope Halkias, MPH, Associate Director of the Infectious Diseases Institute, Inc.; Ms. Tina Manolakos, Esq., AFGLC attorney; and Prof. William Yotis, Professor Emeritus, Loyola University of Chicago and Clinical Professor of Microbiology and Immunology, USF. It proved to be a candid appraisal of AFGLC's strengths and weaknesses, and also explored possible ways to ameliorate the latter in order to continue its extraordinary role as a torch bearer of the Hellenic Spirit. Prof. J. Balis, signaled the .

closure of the Forum with an appropriate summation and due acknowledgements

On the eve of the Forum, those attending had an opportunity to see several ethnic dances performed by USF students from countries along the route of Alexander the Great, from Greece to India. Adding to the delight, was a buffet of wonderful international foods donated by Tampa Bay area restaurateurs. The event was organized by the Hellenic Society of USF, which also delighted many with a performance of Greek folk dances during Saturday's lunch break.

The Forum would not have been complete without a special event given in honor of two outstanding Hellenes and attended by the Executive Committee and members of AFGLC and the Forum speakers. The special reception-dinner was held at the Embassy Suites Hotel, Tampa; it got underway with the National Anthems of the United States and Greece, sung by Ms. Joanna Hills. During the dinner, Prof. Klasko introduced Prof. Constantine Papadakis, President of Drexel University, Philadelphia, who delivered this year's keynote address "The Contributions of Ancient Greece to Technology," a powerful reminder of the many ways in which our forefathers influenced all spheres of human activity. Another Hellene present at the reception, Mr. John T. Baglaneas, Executive Editor & Managing Director of The Hellenic Voice, made a moving speech in support of the AFGLC mission and delivered a letter of support from Mr. Behrakis together with the phil

In retrospect, it must be noted that the presenters and panelists engaged the audience with their highly informative, enlightening, often humorous papers and insight. The consensus of all those who attended was that this was a memorable Forum, indeed, a feather in the caps of those whose indefatigable work made it possible. IFGLC HELLENIC CENTER (Κέντρο Αθηνών)

By: Professor Manolis Bechrakis, President

The Athens Center has been very active, organizing a number of interesting cultural events that have been supported by our members as well as by friends of the Center who value the goals and aspirations of our Foundation. Worthy of mention among these events, are the following:

On November 15, 2006 the Center held a meeting at the Conference Hall of the Athens Chamber of Commerce & Industry, which was made available to us by its President, Mr. Konstantinos Michalos. Our guest speaker was the Pianist Ada Karmiri, an active member of our Center, who spoke on "The Effects of Music on People." It proved to be a thorough and lucid presentation, greatly enhanced with medical data interjected by our President, Professor Manolis Bechrakis, to the delight of the audience. The meeting ended with a Q&A session, which was to respond to questions and to settle doubts.

A well-attended, day-long excursion to the archeological site and museum of Acrocorinth took place on December 16, 2006, organized by our Vice President, Professor Athanasios Papadopoulos, who also served as our guide. The recent archeological finds and the detailed presentation of Dr. Papadopoulos, an archeologist who is participating in the current excavations conducted out by the American Archeological School, were most impressive and revealed the importance of Corinth during the Ancient, Hellenistic and Roman periods.

On February 1, 2007, the members of our Center and their friends were invited to attend a presentation on "Hellenic Culture without Borders," at the National Research Institute of Athens. Speakers at this remarkable event were Greek and foreign archeologists, who have been conducting excavations in Mediterranean countries as well as in areas between the shores of the Caspian Sea and India. Among the speakers was Dr. Papadopoulos, Professor of Prehistoric Archeology, who is presently conducting excavations in Jordan.

We cut our traditional Christmas Pita on February 5, 2007." Mrs. Ada Karmiri, graced us with her presence and piano music. Also honoring us with her presence was Ms. Jenny Manoussaki, internationally renowned pianist. Ms. Manoussaki has given numerous concerts repeatedly at Carnegie Hall and the largest concert halls of Europe. Her outstanding performance took us for a while to the magic world of Beethoven, Bach and Kalomiri. Mrs. Nelly Parastatidou, an art painter and art historian, also a new member of the Foundation, was kind to donate a beautiful painting for a raffle, in order to raise money with which to fund essential goals of the Foundation. Part of the event's proceedings was used to purchase history maps and CD's of Greek folk dances for the Greek School of Baltimore, Maryland.

Finally, on April 16, 2007, the painter-artist and historian Nelly Parastatidou gave a very informative lecture on "The Architecture of Parthenon and its sculptures." The event took place in the "Pneumatikon Kentron Enoseos Constantinoupoliton," which provided the use of the hall with the assistance of Mrs. F. Pagouropoulou, one of our members.

We are looking forward to two more cultural events, a visit to the archeological site of Mycenae, guided by our Vice President, Dr. Papadopoulos, and a lecture by Dr. Mousa on the "Astrolavo of Antikythira."

The Athens Center would like to extend its warm thanks to the Chamber of Commerce & Industry of Athens (and in particular to its former President Mr. D. Fountoukakos and current President Mr. Michalos of the EBEA), for its generous contribution of €5,000 (Euros) to the Center.

The President and the Executive Committee of the Athens Center, after the normalization of the situation at the Headquarters in Tampa, are very hopeful and optimistic about the future of the IFGLC. They'll embark with greater enthusiasm and effort to accomplish the productive goals of the Center. The goals and the objectives must become the source of inspiration and should overcome egoistic and personal ambitions. On the contrary, sincere personal ambitions should become the means by which to accomplish the goals and objectives of the IFGLC and become its foundation.

Announcing!
